not being used at a large scale?

Why do we have good quality research, technology and data, but it is not leading to a large scale?

- Boost dialogue - back to communication!
- Discuss metrics - how to measure sustainability?
- Evidence, we need REAL examples!
- Provide evidence - we already have good scientific

Show CASL to the World!!

• Bring unbiased, science-based information to the public

• Combat the extremism, bad vision of the farmers to society

• Balanced Narrative! Tell the real story.

COMMUNICATION
(farmers, youth, researchers and private sector)

• More visibility = more engagement = more participation

• Educating people about the importance of sustainable and healthy diets and how to support a system change

• Powerful tool to support a system change

need for simple and easily accessible sources of information.

Most do not rely on written or academic literature. There is a

- Expand social media - share information about livestock and share relevant regional events.

- Improve CASL website use to clearly demonstrate actions and plans.

COMMUNICATION - OUR SUGGESTION

Livestock Sector Actions Towards More Sustainable Food Systems
Agenda

- Expand country representation within CASL regions
- Expand and develop framework for youth involvement in CASL (ex: implement a Youth Advisory Council)
- Expand representation of Southeast Asia (ex: Broader representation of Southeast Asia)
- Place as a result of the conference
- Maintain open communication lines on actions put into

By taking action and investing, you are preparing youth to confidently voice their opinion when asked, and to fully utilize opportunities they are presented with.

Other countries that have existing models, so they are able to learn from each other.

CASL has the capability and the network to facilitate discussion between well (4-H, FEFA, CYL).

Crucial to continue investing in the existing programming that is working been supported by youth programming in their respective regions. It is shown clearly in the calibre of the group here this week - many who have the long term sustainability of leadership within our industry. This has been
